ILLEGIB

: (a) DASD(I) (R&M) Memorandum dated 14 March 1975

(b) Dir DIA Memorandum, dated 27 March 1975

IHC READING

Reference (a) was given to PRD for reply. However, PRD and the IHC have mutually agreed that the replies to both references should be handled by the IHC. The reply to reference (a) makes reference to the DIA memorandum also, to insure that all recipients are aware that we are handling these as a package, to some extent.

2. This is a complex subject and one which has potential technical and bureaucratic pitfalls. We would prefer not to make this an agenda item for USIB until the IHC has had an opportunity to staff it within the community and feel the pulse and identify the problems.

3. We therefore recommend a temporizing reply (attached) to General Graham, followed in a month or two with more specific recommendations after we have had time to research it a bit more fully.

4. We must find a way to improve our indexing systems and related bibliographic approaches, as well as the compartmentation and classification problems, without appearing to be overly critical of any system, or of trying to get too centralized in production control, or worse, to appear to be trying to identify unneeded documents.

*also included a memo
to Chairman IHC*

Resubmitted for DIA memos*

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense
(Resources and Management)

SUBJECT : Providing Current Bibliographies and References to Significant Intelligence Publications in the Current Intelligence System

REFERENCE : Memorandum dated 14 March 1975 to D/DCI/IC
from Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense, Subject: same

1. I agree with you that the 8 March NIB reference to the interagency memorandum was incomplete. [redacted]

25X1

[redacted] We will encourage our friends on the NIB Staff to make future references to papers such as this explicit and complete, as you suggest.

2. The broader question of a comprehensive Intelligence Product Bibliography System, which you raised in a memorandum to General Graham on 22 January and which he forwarded to the DCI on 27 March with the proposal that it be considered by USIB, is currently being reviewed by the Information Handling Committee.
Any action on that broader concept would presumably contribute to resolution of the more limited current bibliography problem you have raised in your memorandum of 14 March 1975.
